36V lithium battery pack fully charged

Overview

---

A 36V lithium battery achieves full charge when the voltage reaches approximately 42V. This occurs through a two-stage process: the first stage rapidly charges the battery, and the second stage, known as saturation, gradually reduces the charging current as it approaches full. A 36V lithium battery pack is one of the most common power systems used in mid-power electric equipment today. You'll see it in e-bikes, light electric scooters, compact cleaning machines, small AGVs, and different types of portable tools and devices. Understanding the voltage levels throughout the charging and discharging process is crucial for maximizing performance and. Only 20 left in stock - order soon.
