Overview

Summary: The Bahamas is making strides in renewable energy with a new large-scale energy storage battery project currently under construction. If you don't find exactly what you're looking for, don't hesitate to reach out to us via email. We're always ready to explore custom solutions and may be able to assist. Bahamas Power and Light (BPL) has announced significant plans to develop large-scale solar power projects integrated with battery storage, a move set to enhance energy reliability across the islands. Discover how. Countries in the Caribbean are looking to deploy more affordable renewable energy and storage solutions while improving resilience against extreme weather events. The need is particularly pressing for Caribbean islands prone to hurricanes that can sweep away key infrastructure and disrupt energy. The Utilities Regulation and Competition Authority ('URCA') is the independent regulator and competition authority for the Electricity Sector ('ES') in The Bahamas. Its role, powers and functions are set out in the Electricity Act, 2015 ('EA')¹. The system uses Solar Plus Storage technology to bring clean power and strong backup energy to local homes.
