Wind power poles fall down

Overview

Wind gusts of up to 70 mph downed nearly more than 60 power poles, trapping people in their cars along some streets. NV Energy said the sudden weather caused the poles to fall, and in some cases, caused trees or other items to fall into the power line, which pulled the poles down. Crews work on repairing power lines at a Las Vegas intersection Thursday, J, more than a day after a severe windstorm damaged several poles and left thousands without power. (KSNV) LAS VEGAS (KSNV) — Repairs continue Thursday for the damage left in the wake of a powerful windstorm that. LAS VEGAS (KLAS) — Cleanup and power restoration efforts continued across the Las Vegas valley Wednesday after powerful winds on Tuesday knocked down more than 60 power lines, causing widespread outages, damage, and safety hazards in several neighborhoods. Powerful winds sent power poles crashing onto a Las Vegas road on Tuesday afternoon, crushing one vehicle with a dashcam that recorded the whole. Workers survey downed traffic lights and power lines on East Tropicana Ave, Wednesday, J. Among the roadways closed was a 1.4-mile section of East Tropicana Avenue between.
